

The Daily Meal[®]
All Things Food & Drink

Published on The Daily Meal (<http://www.thedaily meal.com>)

Home > Eat/Dine > Casual Eats > America's 75 Best Hot Dogs

America's 75 Best Hot Dogs

America's 75 Best Hot Dogs

#1 Katz's Deli, New York City

Katz's Deli, on New York's Lower East Side, is a New York institution. Their corned beef and pastrami, made on-premises and sliced to order, are legendary, and the simple act of taking your ticket, standing in line, bantering with the counterperson while placing your order, and finding a table has become as New York an exercise as, well, eating a hot dog with a smear of mustard and a little sauerkraut. And it just so happens that the hot dogs here are very good; the best in the country, in fact. Made especially for the restaurant by Sabrett, these garlicky, natural-casing, jumbo-size all-beef dogs spend such a long time on the flat-top grill that the outside gets a nice char and snaps when you bite.